BIG HURDLES LEFT— Airlines Okay Merger Plan

New York (UPI) — Directors of Pan American World Airways and Trans World Airlines approved plans Thursday to merge the nation's two biggest overseas carriers into a globe spanning system that would exceed in assets the proposed American-Eastern airlines consolidation.

To become consummated, however, the merger plan still must clear many hurdles. It must win approval from the 48,500 shareholders of both lines, from the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) and from President Kennedy because of its international scope. The merger is expected to draw heavy fire from TWA's domestic competitors.

The announcement of the agreement, which capped nearly a year of negotiations, said that the plan would create "a financially strong U.S.-flag transatlantic airline better able to compete against combinations of foreign carriers which have reduced the U.S. share of the transatlantic market by 42% in 12 years."

Split Top Jobs

The merger company would be known as Pan Am World Airlines Inc., Juan T. Trippe, president of Pan American, and chief executive officer would become chairman of the new air system and Charles C. Tillinghast, Jr., president of TWA, would become president.

The new operating company, the announcement said, would exchange stock with TWA share for share. The present Pan American corporation would continue as a holding company with 11,346,063 shares of the new operating company, or 1.7 times the 6,674,155 shares owned by TWA shareholders.

The merger agreement, the joint statement said, would result in no loss of jobs or reduction in the pay scales "for most non-management employees in the United States." It further said that increased employment opportunities should result from the merger.

"The merged airlines are expected to fly substantially more hours and carry more traffic through greater utilization of the combined fleets," it said.

The proposal would forge a domestic and international carrier with assets of $1.121 billion as against $890 million for the American-Eastern merger. Pan American, the nation's largest international airline, has no domestic routes, TWA is the third biggest domestic airline and the second biggest U.S.-flag international carrier.

A fully-merged Pan Am-TWA System, which in 1961 would have ranked 75th in sales among U.S. corporations, would have 80,000 miles of world-wide routes. It would also have about 40,000 employees and a fleet of 131 jet aircraft plus some piston aircraft. Combined, the two airlines last year flew more than 9.2 million passengers and had revenues of $822.8 million.

Possible Bar

A complicating factor and a possible bar to the merger is the current legal storm buffeting TWA. Multimillionaire Howard Hughes who owns 78% of TWA stock through his tool company, Hughes Tool, but cannot vote his holdings.

The unpredictable industrialist currently is embroiled in a $336 million court fight to regain control of TWA which he gave up two years ago as a condition for obtaining jet fleet financing. The action was in answer to a $115 million suit against Hughes brought by the trustees who are voting his stock. They are seeking to strip Hughes permanently of his control.

The outcome of these lawsuits is seen in the industry as the key to whether TWA can merge with Pan Am or any other airline. The elusive Hughes has never made known his views on a Pan Am-TWA marriage, but he recently moved closer to realizing his long cherished goal of merging Northeast Airlines into TWA by acquiring the assets of the financially-ailing line.

Shown is the unassembled drum—an iron kettle, the hide drumhead, drumstick and rope for tying the drumhead—used with prayer songs. Tying the drumhead, after placing water and hot coals in the drum, is a special skill.

U.S. Barterers Return To Cuba

Havana (AP) — Former U.S. surgeon general Leonard Scheele accompanied negotiator James B. Donovan to Havana Thursday from Miami, Fla., in an effort to speed liberation of 1,113 Cuban invasion prisoners.

Scheele, of Summit, N.J., will serve as consultant in ransom talks with Fidel Castro. He will answer questions about the type of medical supplies offered in exchange for the captives.

Donovan had returned to Miami from Havana for overnight conferences with U.S. officials. The New York lawyer made no statement before taking off from Miami on his fourth flight to Havana since ransom bargaining with Castro began.

Still Hopeful

Hope persisted in many quarters that the prisoners might be in Miami this weekend.

At Port Everglades, Fla., the freighter African Pilot arrived from Baltimore, and was ready to load millions of dollars worth of pharmaceuticals and foodstuffs donated for the American Red Cross-sponsored operation.

The U.S. Coast Guard patrolled the area where the 460-foot freighter was docked. Russell Jones, a Red Cross official, explained "we're guarding against any possible sabotage."

Preparations

At Homestead, Fla., government officials continued preparations for receiving the men captured in the unsuccessful April 17, 1961, Bay of Pigs invasion, if they are freed.

Plans called for flying them to Homestead Air Force Base aboard charter airliners. After being processed, the men would be taken to Miami's Bayfront Park for reunion with loved ones. Arrangements were being made with hospitals for treatment of all-in-prisoners.

At Miami's Opa-Locka Air Field, stockpiling of ransom supplies proceeded, with donations arriving by plane, truck and train. The total received was reported at $33 million. This compared with Castro's $53 million demand.

Gov. Frank Morrison confirmed Thursday that District Judge Virgil Falloon of Falls City has submitted to him his resignation from the First Judicial District post he has held since 1936.

In his letter to the governor, Judge Falloon requested that his resignation be effective January 1.

He was re-elected to his present 4-year term in 1960 before he reached the mandatory retirement age of 70, and could, if he had so desired, serve out the remainder of the term.

Morrison said he will follow the same merit system plan in naming a successor to Judge Falloon as he has in choosing a successor to fill the vacancy soon to be created in Lancaster District Court when Judge Paul White becomes chief justice of the State Supreme Court.

Judge Falloon, now 71, is a native of Falls City and a graduate of the University of Ohio. He was admitted to the practice of law in 1916, and held the office of county judge from 1917 to 1936 when he was elected judge of the First Judicial District comprised of Johnson, Nemaha, Richardson and Pawnee Counties.

Some were pathetic. For example this one, despite its bad spelling and faulty punctuation:

"Please send me and my baby sister and my brother something for Xmas please my brother want a bicycle my mother cant get us nothing for Xmas this time Santa please send us something so we can have a marry Xmas and we wish you a marry marry Xmas and a happy new year."

One charming note asked for nothing. It merely said:

"Hope you have a nice trip, Santa. We learned a song about Jesus. The earth goes around the sun. Yours truly, Denise."

Weird Requests

There are some weird requests. One kid wanted "pretend sandwiches and pretend teeth." Another letter was a blank sheet except for the single penciled word "pantaloons."

Youngsters often feel constrained to put their best foot forward. "I had one A, and the rest B's on my report card, is that good?" wrote Linda. "Please bring me most of all a: Poodle dog. (Little) (tiny.)"

Another asked for a doll baby for her little sister. "Her name is Mary Jo and she is a good little girl most of the time," she wrote. "So am I."

Tammy and Terry told Santa "the front door will be unlocked in case you can't get down the fireplace."

Modest Kenneth said "I hope you come to see me this Christmas eve. I would like some presents, if you think I have been a good boy."

Some of the very young could do no more than fill the page with squiggly lines, many enclosed crayon drawings for their whiskered friend.

Katanga Students Stone U.S. Consulate

Sending Of Military Aid
Is Resented

Tshombe Blames U.S.
For Congo Miseries

Elisabethville, Katanga (P)—Shouting "Down with Kennedy," Katanga University students stoned the U.S. consulate Thursday and then sang the praises of the British and French.

The demonstrations were sparked by announcement that the United States is sending more military aid to United Nations forces in the Congo to support the campaign to end Katanga's secession.

President Moise Tshombe, at a news conference, blamed the United States for prolonging the Congo's "miseries" and threatened to "apply the scorched earth policy" in his mineral-rich province rather than give in to military pressure.

Guards Called Out

Tshombe's own guards had to be called out to break up the attack on the U.S. Consulate.

About 150 screaming students—both African and white—ripped down the American flag, let loose a rock barrage breaking all windows in the building, and set fire to a shack on the grounds.

Consul Jonathan Dean and his staff looked at the demonstration from a balcony, then took cover inside.

Police fired shots in the air to disperse the students, who were chanting "Kick the consul out ... Let's bash the consul's head in ... No GIs in Katanga."

Strong Protest

Washington (UPI) — The United States Thursday protested Katanganese student attacks on the U.S. Consulate at Elisabethville and sent a military mission to the Congo to look into American aid to United Nations operations there.

State Department spokesman Lincoln White said the protest lodged with Katanga asked provincial officials to "take rapid steps to repair the damage" wrought by stone-throwing students when they stormed the consulate.

The U.S. mission to the Congo was headed by Lt. Gen. L. W. Truman, who said he would look into the matter of additional equipment and assistance to the United Nations there. He said he would look into "all facets" of the situation, but had no instructions on possible dispatch of U.S. troops.

Truman left for the Congo by jet immediately after returning to Washington from talks with U.N. officials in New York. He had been scheduled to leave Wednesday night, but delayed his departure.

Crash Kills 18 In Guatemala

Guatemala (P)—Eighteen persons were killed and 45 injured in the crash of a speeding freight train into a standing passenger train Thursday at the village of Buena Vista, 150 miles west of this capital.

The passenger train was jammed with people on their way here for Christmas. Many had boarded the train at Ciudad Tecun, on the Mexican border.

More Democratic

London (P)—The British Navy, Army, Air Force Institute (NAAFI), equivalent of the American PX, has opened a pub on Salisbury Plain where officers and men may drink together. If it's a success others will follow in a land where it has been an offense for an officer to drink or talk with a ranker except in line of duty.

Jackson, Miss. (UPI) — An ex-convict and two young companions were charged Thursday with stealing NIKE missile and military aircraft parts blueprints and trying to sell them for $600,000 to a man posing as a Cuban spy.

The suspects were identified as Homer Lee Young, 45, the former convict; James W. Causey Jr., 22, and Anthony M. Whitehead, 20, all of Jackson.

FBI agents made the arrests following some cloak-and-dagger sleuthing that involved the fast recruiting of a former Cuba resident as an "undercover" agent.

Underpaid Snow Shoveler Fails In Holdup Effort

Omaha (P)—A 13-year-old boy who claimed he wasn't paid as much for shoveling snow as he thought he ought to get, tried a holdup that failed Thursday and wound up in the hands of police.

The boy said he thought that Mrs. Ruth C. Ward of Carter Lake should have paid him 75 cents for the job but she gave him 60 cents.

He said that made him mad and he stole a gun from a car, then returned to the Ward home and tried his holdup. Mrs. Ward slammed the door in his face and he ran. He was picked up soon afterward.

Police said the boy told them he had made $22.87 shoveling walks during the day.

Blaze Burns Kids' Christmas Gifts In Fireman's House

A fire late Thursday burned up $150 worth of Christmas presents a fireman and his wife were going to give their 5 children.

A faulty electrical wiring was blamed for the blaze on the back porch of the house Fireman Larry and Madonna Qualls rent at 6602 Platte.

Damage to the porch itself was estimated at between $50 and $150.

Capture Egyptians

Amman, Jordan (UPI) — Saudi Arabia's Mecca radio reported that Yemeni royalist troops captured 25 Egyptian officers and soldiers, 20 cadets and large quantities of equipment, including Soviet-made rifles.

Military Budget Is Left Open

Spending May Go As High As $50 Billion

Washington (P)—The military budget book for the coming fiscal year is being left open until President Kennedy makes a final decision on the controversial Skybolt missile program.

Even if the administration does decide to drop the $2.5-billion program—as seems entirely possible now—the Pentagon's budget requests for the year starting next July 1 seem certain to rise about $2 billion above this year's $48.2-billion spending figure.

Other factors will boost the military budget.

One of them seems quite likely to be the Minuteman missile program. The success of the Minuteman solid fuel, quick-firing intercontinental ballistic rocket has a bearing on the Skybolt project. One of the arguments advanced by the civilian experts for Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has been that U.S. strategic power will be entirely adequate to cover all targets with the missiles and planes now available or currently in production.

Big Increase Talked

Reports are that McNamara may propose increasing to 950 the presently programmed 800 Minuteman arsenals.

McNamara's civilian advisers make two points in their argument against the Skybolt:

(A) The program would mean spending about $2 billion, in addition to the development cost, for providing more nuclear firepower on targets already assigned to bombers, ICBMs and Polaris submarine missiles; (B) The Skybolt, designed for launching up to 1,000 miles away, has presented complex technical problems and has had an unbroken series of 5 failures in test.

Wonderful Gift

Calgary, Alta. (P)—A young Hungarian immigrant couple, George Szekely and wife, had to leave their daughters Marianne and Margit with relatives when they escaped in the 1956 Hungarian uprising.

The girls, now aged 11 and 10, arrived here by plane this week to rejoin their parents.

"It's the best Christmas we've ever had," George said, speaking for all 4.

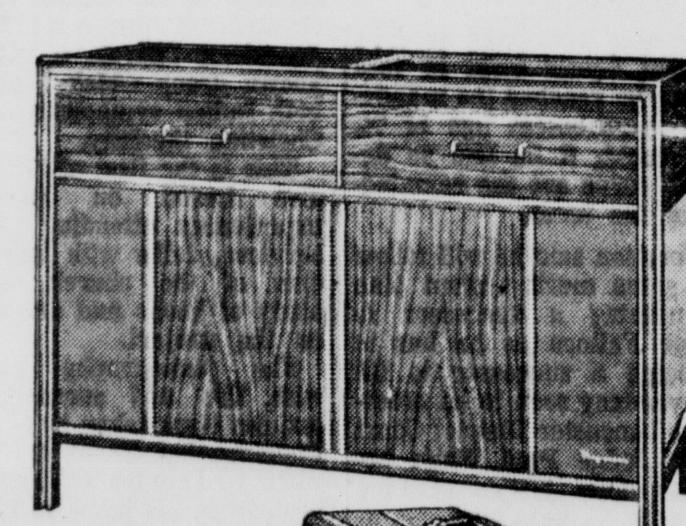

In Santiago, Bosch had 1,854 votes to 1,584 for Dr. Viriato A. Fiallo, the National Civic Union candidate.

Charges by a Roman Catholic priest that the Revolutionary Party's leadership was infiltrated with communists—later retracted—had been expected to hurt Bosch in Santiago and elsewhere in the more conservative countryside.

In Ciudad La Vega, another Fiallo area, Bosch forged ahead 3,233-2,335.

$200 Million Released To Speed Public Works

... AND HELP TO GENERATE JOBS

Washington (P)—President Kennedy has released nearly $200 million to speed up work on job-generating public works projects, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges announced Thursday.

"Based on our experience specific state and local projects, and $42.9 million to direct federal projects.

Hodges said these projects are generating 230,000 man-months of direct employment on useful projects.

"In the initial allocation, this second allocation should generate an additional 280,000 man-months of direct useful work," Hodges said.

In the second allocation of $197.6 million, $147 million will go for state and local projects and $50 million for direct federal projects in eligible areas of the country. These are areas designated as having high unemployment.

Morrison Tells Mayor Stand

... IN DRAMATIC CONFRONTATION

Omaha (P) — Gov. Frank Morrison stated his position on the Interstate Highway to Omaha Mayor James J. Dworak in person Thursday.

Dworak earlier had threatened to block Interstate construction in the city if changes in plans were made without the knowledge of city officials.

State Engineer John Hossack said that a misunderstanding developed apparently from the fact some persons in Omaha got hold of a highway planning map which marked off an area to be surveyed. He denied any changes had been made in the Interstate's tentative routing plans. He said the survey included a larger area than the route the Interstate will ultimately follow.

Gov. Morison spotted Mayor Dworak at a luncheon here Thursday and rushed over to him.

"We have no secrets in the state. I'm as close as my telephone," the governor said. "The Interstate Highway charts of a survey crew and been copied from working will not be built in Omaha until: "One—you decide you want it."

"Two — you decide where you want it."

Then the governor walked away.

Hossack and City Engineer D. P. de Bord agreed Thursday that a misleading map published in a weekly newspaper was the source of the misunderstanding.

Hossack said the map had not represent his department's thinking in regard to a route for the highway.

Dworak commented: "How can Hossack be informed correctly if his own employees (the survey crew) by his own admission are not informed correctly?"

Morrison later added that no Interstate route would be built within a city unless the city wanted it.

Then late Thursday the majority of the City Council of Omaha issued a statement disassociating themselves with Dworak's comments.

The councilmen were Ernest A. Adams, Stephen T. Novak, Warren R. Swigart, Al Veys, and Arthur D. Bradley Jr.

Council President Harry Trustin remarked: "Nothing should be done in the city without careful consideration of the council. We're sure that's what the mayor has in mind."

TRIP TRAGEDY Two Die, One Hurt Critically

Macon, Mo. (UPI) — A trip home for Christmas ended in tragedy late Wednesday when two Indiana college students were killed and two others were injured in a highway crash near here.

The State Highway Patrol said the small foreign car in which the youths were traveling to their homes in Nebraska struck a bridge railing, stopped on its side, and was struck by a truck.

Troopers identified the dead as Candace Troxel, 19, of Broken Bow, and Margaret Rufe, 21, of Gordon.

John Holland, 21, of Hastings, was the driver. He and his sister, Linda, 19, were admitted to Samaritan Hospital here. Attendants said the girl was in critical condition. Her brother's condition was described as satisfactory.

All the youths were students at Anderson College, Anderson, Ind.

Ray James Richards, 33, of Kansas City, Mo., the truck driver, escaped with minor injuries.

The State Highway Patrol said light rain which had fallen intermittently during the evening had stopped before the accident occurred, about 11:30 p.m., on U.S. 36, 3 miles east of here.

Cause of the crash was not established. Troopers said the condition of the injured students prevented questioning them and that the truck driver had "no idea what happened" except that the small car struck a bridge rail, bounced back into the roadway and overturned. He said he was unable to stop or to swerve around the vehicle. No charges were filed.

Merchants Help Santa Give

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Everyone knows Santa's pack is loaded mostly by his elves, but he's also getting quite a hand hereabouts from Nebraska merchants.

Businessmen not only want to see his gifts piled high—but piled high from their particular town. To collect their share of Christmas cash, they're unwrapping trade gimmicks like a child does presents.

The real crowd-pullers are community-wide promotions, although some individual stores add a bit of tinsel through their own attractions.

Merchants recognize that their big competitor is no longer the man across the street, but the fellow in the next town," observed Joel Dibble, Beatrice Chamber of Commerce executive vice president.

Storemen realize also that Santa is apt to hand out more treats if he comes by helicopter—as he did at Beatrice, for example—than in a less sensational vehicle.

To the conventional treatments-on-the-knee have been added free movies, and now even newer fringe benefits.

Parents Pleased

Hebron's main come-on the past two holiday seasons has been free picture-taking with Santa, modernized with self-processing cameras. Parents are even more pleased than their candy-caned kiddies, said Mrs. Hazel Johnson, a sparkplug of that project and a companion ladies' idea workshop.

Fairbury and Crete may slow the sales of Christmas bicycles, but hope to ring up other compensations through dozens of bikes being awarded "Yuletide Princesses" in trade area towns.

"With each customer's dollar worth a thousand votes, though, it takes a mathematician to keep the records," quipped Ray Schmidt, Fairbury Chamber manager.

Popular openers of the holiday rush were "discount nights," most of them individually sponsored. Auburn however, got most stores together for its 5th year of offering 10% overall reductions the same evening.

"I am very pleased that the Dempster people have demonstrated their generosity and hope that the windmill project can be expanded," Morrison said.

Admitted to Baptist Hospital was Mrs. Rachel Robertson, 20, of Omaha, possible fracture of left arm and elbow laceration.

The driver of the bus was identified as Joe Bill Wallace, 30, of Osceola, Mo., and the driver of the truck as John Rose, 48, of Brighton, Mo. Neither was injured.

Mrs. Hitchcock's Will Provides For Recovery Home

Omaha (P) — Mrs. Gilbert M. Hitchcock, who died in Washington, D. C., Saturday, provided funds for the establishment of a home in the Omaha area for adult, needy convalescents.

This was disclosed in a will filed for probate in Douglas County Court Thursday. The will provides that the home would be a place where deserving needy people could come for rest for a week or two following operations, and is not intended for permanent residents. No charge would be made for any of the home's services.

It would be known as the Gilbert M. and Martha A. Hitchcock Home for Convalescents.

Man From Mead Dies When Auto Hits Freight Train

Mead (UPI) — George R. Jackson, 33, of Mead, was killed shortly after midnight early Friday morning when his car struck a Union Pacific train east of here.

The State Safety Patrol said Jackson was alone in his westbound car when it crashed into the 54th car of a 66-car train. A light snow was falling at the time.

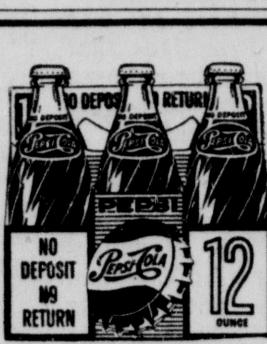

The accident happened about 1 1/4 miles east of here on Neb. 92.

Union Pacific officials said Jackson carried a driver's license with an Omaha address but the Patrol said he was from Mead.

Where Does It Lead?

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There are thoughtful people who ponder from time to time the role that government plays and should play in the lives of its citizens but we wonder how many people take the time to sort of turn the equation around. President Kennedy has said recently, in lifting the text of a presidential report, that the nation faces a serious shortage of engineers and scientists. It is a known fact that the nation also faces a shortage of doctors in the years ahead.

There is not much question that one answer proposed for this will be the granting of federal aid to stimulate interest of young people in these careers. This will cause great consternation among those people who are opposed to the spending of federal funds for such purposes. There are times, of course, when such fears may be well founded and it is possible that federal aid for popularizing of professions might be one such time. It is a fact that there is something foreign to us in government action aimed at determining the choice of a profession on the part of a young man or woman. One wonders how all of this might work out in the end.

But while the role of government in such an area might be open to serious question, the role of the citizen could also be examined. What is it that has caused the shortage about which the President has spoken and which threatens to present us with serious problems in meeting the challenging times of the future?

In the past history of this nature, our society has seemed to build in answer for such problems. The answer was a very fundamental and simple thing. If society needed more engineers, doctors, plumbers, carpenters or what have you, those who entered such fields had premium placed upon their ability. By virtue of their great demand, they commanded a high reward and this was all the incentive needed to eventually eliminate the shortage.

Young people choose a career for a variety of reasons and one of these reasons is the expectation of reasonable success in terms of financial reward. This is not to discredit other motives that may be even first and foremost in deciding upon a field of work but is meant only to help in gaining a realistic appraisal of the current situation. There are many skills and professions, of course, that would go begging if money were the only consideration of those who decided to enter them. But it seems that when we have a problem of shortage in essential professional areas and the problems has signs of permanency, then something somewhere is out of order. The field of medicine has always been an entrancing one for millions of young people.

Mixed Emotions On Ransom

Prisoners of the ill fated Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba will not be released without mixed feelings on the part of the American people. One would need to be more callous than is the average American not to rejoice, particularly at this time of year; over the good fortune of 1,113 men finding freedom after two years in Castro prisons. It is no secret that Cuban jails are holes of misery and suffering and often torture.

It is the payment of $53 million in strategic goods to Castro for release of the prisoners that disturbs the American people. Apparently, there are no tax funds going into the venture but that adds little by way of satisfaction to the matter. The exchange still will be a great help to Castro who has suffered severely from a shortage of the kind of food and medical supplies he will receive if the exchange is finally consummated.

The Ponderable Creature

People are certainly ponderable creatures.

Bits of pre-Christmas news supplies the evidence.

Minnesota's great All-American football tackle went home for the holidays — home to Shelby, North Carolina, in the segregated South. It was too much for the color struggle. King's X was declared. The whole town lined the streets and shouted its admiration for its hero. Bell stood in the lead car of a procession returning the salutes of his fellow citizens. An official headed by the mayor gave him a key to the city.

A few hundred miles west someone threw a skunk on the car of student James Meredith at the University of Mississippi, and when he left town shortly afterward to spend Christmas with his folks the force of armed soldiers keeping the peace in that college town of Oxford was the fields of science and engineering have always fascinated large numbers of high school and college students.

At the same time, these fields have not been excessively low on the economic scale. Medicine and engineering, in fact, have long ranked as two of the more rewarding fields of work from a strictly monetary point of view. Not all fields of science have been considered so rewarding but this situation has changed to the point where future years will find the scientist among the top in terms of income. This is already a fact throughout much of industry today where success or failure of a venture will hinge upon the work done in the laboratory. The pattern of industrial growth is beginning to follow the path of research and experimentation.

No such trend as this has ever had to be dealt with by the government in the past. When the needs of industry and the demands of society brought changes onto the scene, they brought with them other forces that dealt effectively with these changes. More and more people have entered service and professional areas of work as the American standard of living has increased and created a demand for people in these areas.

But now there is fear, implied if not expressed by the President, that we may no longer be able to let the situation take care of itself. It is possible that civilization in a sense does not move individually in proportion to the progress of the world as a whole. It is possible that men have a tendency and actually do live in some ways faster than they are capable of living.

The crossing of the nuclear threshold has thrown us into a situation with which we are not prepared to deal. We have moved so fast that we have discovered we are not able to maintain the pace, are not able to keep up with our potential. We are not by far possessed of all or even a small part of scientific knowledge but we have gained sufficient understanding to comprehend the magnitude and virtual infinity of this field of knowledge. We know now that the nation which conquers science will be the nation that conquers, period — the nation that falls heir to all the earth.

What we don't know is whether this vast field of science can be left to the natural cause-and-effect relationship that has taken care of us in the past. Time changes many concepts and perhaps it has now changed the theory that men will pursue in adequate numbers for our survival objectives of national importance. Incentive may come to be tempered eventually with the dictates of necessity.

President Kennedy, therefore, is shedding no tears over Douglas protests that it is losing the $2,300,000,000 Skybolt contract. Douglas's track record of denials and lobbying pressure also brings no tears to anyone reviewing the record.

When this column reported that Douglas sold the DC-4 blueprints to Japan for $706,720 in 1939, Donald Douglas, Sr., issued a ringing denial. Under no circumstances, he said, would Douglas sell blueprints to Japan.

But after the war, Japanese documents were seized, confirming the deal. One letter, Aug. 14, 1939, from A. Akabana to Maj. V. E. Bertrandias of Douglas, was especially interesting.

Douglas Loses Skybolt Program

WASHINGTON — It may not help Prime Minister Macmillan with his domestic political problems, but there's a certain poetic justice in the fact that President Kennedy is canceling the Skybolt missile contract with Douglas Aircraft.

For what Macmillan doesn't know is that time after time Douglas has come under fire for exorbitant profits on missile contracts, for collaborating with the Defense Department in putting out advertising to boost a bigger defense budget, and finally for selling the blueprints of the DC-4 to Japan before Pearl Harbor.

President Kennedy, therefore, is shedding no tears over Douglas protests that it is losing the $2,300,000,000 Skybolt contract. Douglas's track record of denials and lobbying pressure also brings no tears to anyone reviewing the record.

When this column reported that Douglas sold the DC-4 blueprints to Japan for $706,720 in 1939, Donald Douglas, Sr., issued a ringing denial. Under no circumstances, he said, would Douglas sell blueprints to Japan.

Times," the Japanese official wrote, "I could not help but write this letter to compliment you for the most excellent way of disclosing the sales. Those in the know will not object to the transaction as they are limited to those in our trade, while the laymen don't know what the ship is anyway when mentioned singly by your designation in the paper... it was an excellent way of handling the difficult matter in a delicate situation, and I wish to share the feeling of relief, if you ever had one."

Douglas was also the focal point of the furor stirred up by Col. John Nickerson of Redstone arsenal, when he blamed the U.S. missile lag on wire-pulling by certain big manufacturers and claimed they were undercutting efficient Army production.

"It should be noted that the aircraft industry and particularly the Douglas Aircraft Company openly oppose the development of any missile by a government agency," Nickerson charged.

Bobby Tells Brazil To Set Its House In Order Or No Aid

WASHINGTON — The time could conceivably come when American voters will be swayed in their choice of a president by whether he has a devoted, hard-headed younger brother who is willing to pinch-hit for the chief executive in tight places.

In atheist Russia the government has abolished God and changed Christmas to Father Winter. Most of the Russian people are not deceived. They are celebrating Christmas in the same old way and are suspiciously religious about the whole thing.

People are hard to figure out. The question of the ancient psalmist who asked, "Why do the heathen so furiously rage together?" is still a good one.

This largest and most worrisome nation on the South American continent has received more than three times as much foreign aid as any other Latin country—a staggering total of nearly two billion dollars since 1948.

Quixotically, it is perhaps the least friendly to the United States, and the most chummy with Fidel Castro's Cuba.

It has not only sought to influence other Latin American nations to adopt a similar attitude, but it is currently taking steps to increase its own trade with the Soviet bloc.

The timing of Bobby Kennedy's surprise conference with Brazilian President Joao Goulart in Brasilia this week was highly significant for two reasons.

It came only a few days after the President told a press conference:

Perlmans vision may seem starry eyed. But the alternative seems to be nationalization which in itself offers no solution. It is just a case of dumping a hard problem on the public. Most people would rather give interested railroads the right to go ahead with pilot experiments in a selected portion of their systems. If automation is the answer, the tests should prove it.

Galloping inflation of 50 per cent a year in Brazil is chewing up our foreign aid faster than Congress can appropriate the money. While Brazil clamors for more American dollars, it refuses to take the steps which we consider necessary to halt the inflation, and it continues to move still farther to the left.

That is why President Kennedy suddenly persuaded his astute, blunt-speaking younger brother to extend his Panama Canal trip by a day to talk turkey with the Brazilian president.

American officials have repeatedly told Brazil the hard facts of life, but a deaf ear is seemingly turned. Bobby, since he is not only a high ranking cabinet member but also his brother's closest confidant, was obviously speaking the President's own views.

If anyone could put it across, Bobby could. Tough as nails, utterly devoted to the United States, and totally devoid of any jealousy for his older brother, he was there to tell Brazilians that they must put their house in order before expecting further financial aid.

An informed source said that Bobby really laid it on the line. He reportedly told Goulart that U.S. taxpayers will no longer give financial hand-outs to governments which refuse to tighten their belts and play ball.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

North Pole PO Busy Now

By MONA B. PARKER

Mild December temperatures have proven to be fine for two very active but totally unrelated species, according to the "Rural Ramblings" of Mrs. Lester Eastwood in the Pawnee Republican.

Never has she seen so many Christmas shoppers—or flies. She can't remember, she says, ever before having to spray flies during the last month of the year, but lately she has been doing just that.

Charlie Sass of the Lodgepole Nebraskan isn't doing any scoffing about all the big snowstorms they have been having back in Ohio. "What is bad about weather back in that direction is that it stays miserable all winter."

And he is not the least bit envious of the so-called sunshine state and all it has to offer weatherwise. In fact, he's pretty well contented to be right here in the Midlands.

"We have sunshine a good share of the time and lots of days when shirtsleeves and light jackets are just right. California? Ugh! We'll take snow before smog, congestion, nerves, ulcers, go-go and being too busy to enjoy life, any time."

A Kearney business girl takes a practical outlook on today's hair styles. While she doesn't find them particularly becoming, she says, they are convenient on mornings when she's pressed for time.

"It eliminates the necessity for combing one's hair."

The chief ulcer-producers — worry and stress — were something that Kimball youngsters and children everywhere knew nothing about. Their concern at the moment was what they most wanted for Christmas, and putting it down in a letter and getting it on its way...

We could understand Judy Kay Stanton's wanting a baby kitten. But what a little girl would be asking for a frog was for something else again...

"Robert C." thought big, we'll say that for him. His letter: "I want a cannon for Christmas. And 600 little airplanes, a .22 rifle with

Marlin Waechter of the Stanton Register relayed the story about the young lady there who, by her own admission, is getting almost beyond the magical age of the starry-eyed believer. She desperately wants a bicycle for Christmas this year and will not be swayed from her choice of a present. She was heard to remark most emphatically that "Santa Claus had better bring it this year, because next year I may be too old to believe in him!"

And that ulcer may not be too far in the offing, at that.

Someone identified only as "Tommy" didn't believe in a lot of excess wordage or vague promises of cookies and milk and being good, and such. The entire text of his missive: "Skates gun truck pony teddybear."

If there were those on the streets of Chadron last week who thought their eyes were playing tricks on them, The Record assured them that it really was a man riding a large steer that they saw. "Jumbo," half Brahma and half white face, was well named since he now weighs 1,650 pounds. A runt to start with, he was a gentle animal and followed his owner around until he didn't have the heart to part with him. So he is being taught tricks and trained for parades and other special events.

Before his three weeks of rigorous training to be ridden, he tipped the scales at an even ton, but lost 400 pounds in the process.

"Robert C." thought big, we'll say that for him. His letter: "I want a cannon for Christmas. And 600 little airplanes, a .22 rifle with ma'm," he went on as we slipped once more into traffic. "I just hand out the Gospels to them as wish it, and also The Acts and St. Paul to the Corinthians.

"I feel close to St. Paul, ma'm, because I too, was a sinner who was converted to the way of God," he said earnestly. "When a man discovers that he can go forward into the good life as rapidly as he was going forward into the bad, it makes a powerful difference in him. It made a powerful difference in me, ma'm."

As we stopped again for traffic light, I looked at his innocent face and his guileless eyes, and wondered what life of sin, imaginary or real, he had renounced.

"How many Gospels do you distribute?" I wanted to know.

"Well, I've been driving this cab for 26 months, and in that time I have distributed just a few over 4,700 Gospels," he said. "People seem interested." Forty-seven hundred copies! What an extraordinary and wonderful product, I thought. "But isn't it awfully expensive for you?" I asked.

"Oh, No, ma'm," he replied. "The American Bible Society gives me all I can handle."

He drew up in front of my home, and opened the door. "Merry Christmas and God bless you, ma'm," he said. Then, as he started back into the traffic, I found the grace to cry, "God bless you, too, and a Merry Christmas all year."

"I don't preach religion," he said.

General Assembly Session Adjourns

... YEMEN ACCEPTED

United Nations, N.Y. (UPI) — The General Assembly adjourned its 17th annual session early Friday after accepting the credentials of the revolutionary regime in Yemen as the country's rightful government.

The final gavel fell at 12:05 a.m., EST.

The 110-nation world parliament was expected to be called into special session by May to consider the problem of financing its highly expensive peace-keeping costs.

SEASON'S GREETINGS

As delegates headed for Christmas celebrations in all parts of the world, the Congo crisis hung heavy over the United Nations.

Lt. Gen. Louis Truman, head of a U.S. military mission assigned to assess the needs of the U.N. force in the Congo, consulted U.N. experts Thursday for the second day.

With 3 military aides, Truman returned from Washington for talks with Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche of the United States, Robert K. A. Gardiner of Ghana, top U.N. official in the Congo, and legal and other technical experts.

Truman said Thursday's conference was "a continuation of discussion of overall conditions in the Congo."

After the talks Truman returned to Washington, where he immediately took off for the Congo. His departure had been delayed from Wednesday.

As the assembly delegates dispersed to celebrate the holidays in various parts of the world, a decision on closing out the Cuban crisis still hung fire.

Although no immediate meeting was scheduled, U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov hoped to reach agreement soon on procedure, either in a security council meeting — which Russia favors — or by filing statements to the council without the formality of a meeting — which the United States desires.

The assembly raced through the final stages of its 1962 agenda Thursday. In quick order, it:

— Reaffirmed by a 50-13 vote, with 43 abstentions, a U.S. resolution renewing U.N. condemnation of the Soviet Union and demands for the Community suppression of the 1961 Hungarian freedom revolt and asked Secretary General Thant to "take any initiative that he deems appropriate to restore human rights in Hungary."

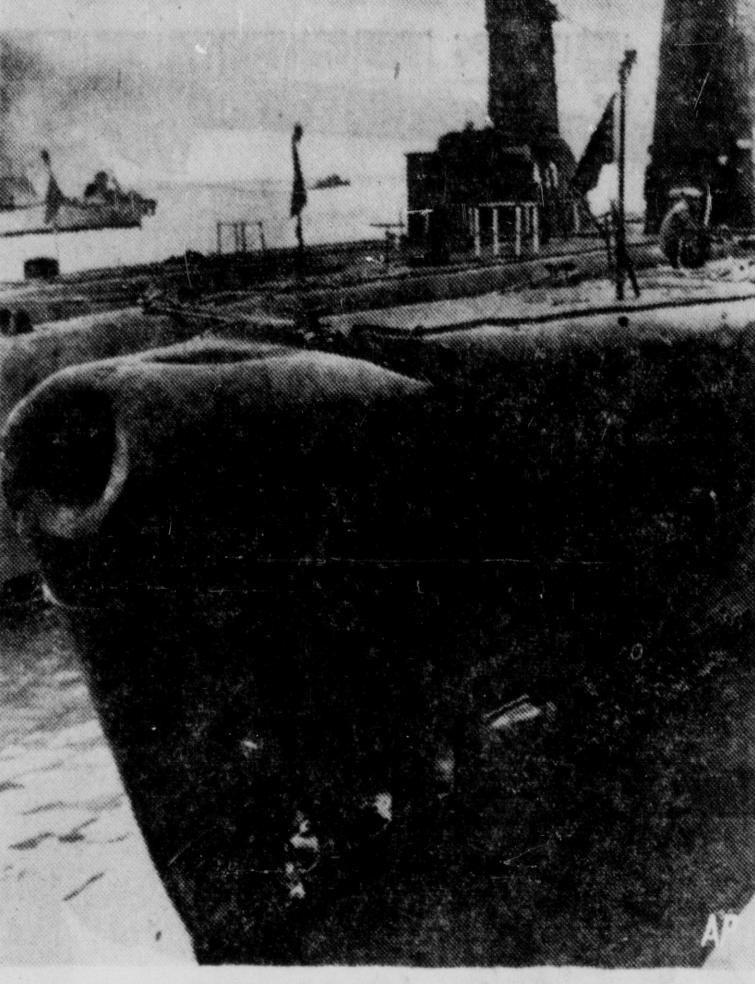

— Approved, 100-2 with 2 abstentions, a U.S. resolution calling on the Palestine Conciliation Commission for continued peaceful negotiations between Israel and its Arab neighbors and extending the U.N. Palestine relief and works agency for Palestine refugees (UNWRA) until June 30.

— Ended debate on Portuguese Angola when Afro-African opposition forced withdrawal of a U.S. resolution to send a delegation representative to study conditions in the African territories of Angola and Mozambique.

The bow of the diesel-powered submarine USS Carp is creased after colliding Thursday with the tanker Amoco Maryland 18 miles off Cape Henry. No one on either vessel was injured in the mishap. The Carp made her way into Norfolk Naval Base for repairs.

Russians Have New Spy Woes

SOVIET OFFICER UNDER ARREST

Moscow (UPI) — The Soviet army newspaper Red Star Thursday reported the arrest of two more persons — a West German woman and a Soviet officer — in the greatest Western spy scandal here since the U2 case.

The disclosure brought to 9

the numbers of persons alleged to have been implicated in the past 7 weeks with Western intelligence operations. Five U.S. diplomats, a British businessman, and a Soviet trade official had been named previously.

Charge Not Disclosed

The Soviet officer was identified by Red Star only as "Popov." The West German woman was identified only as "Mansfield." There was no indication where they were held or the specific charges against them.

Red Star said the Pentagon "with the help of this Judas (Popov) was trying to collect information on Soviet rocket troops and the location of important military objects."

State Security Committee Chairman Vladimir Semashko said in a Pravda article that security organs have been purged of Stalinist henchmen. The personality cult fostered "serious and gross violations" of security work, he said.

TODAY'S CALENDAR

A 32-year-old Lincoln man and his 9-year-old son were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital following a two-car collision at 70th and Thurston late Thursday afternoon.

Police said Charles F. Swinscoe suffered an apparent neck injury and his son, Stephen, had a broken arm.

The Swinscoe vehicle was in collision with another driven by Harold Eliker, 36, of Waverly.

At Least 3 Die In RR, Truck Fire

Okeechobee, Fla. (AP) — A Miami to New York passenger train crashed at 70 miles an hour into a truck of Oranges Thursday night, wrecking the train and sending its two locomotives and 15 cars twisting along the rails. The lead locomotive and truck caught fire.

At least 3 persons were killed and 15 were reported hospitalized. 10 or 15 others were treated at the hospital and released.

W. E. Rachels, vice president of the railroad, identified the two dead as H. O. Slaughter, the baggagemaster, Wildwood, Fla., and fireman William Bell of Tampa.

The third victim was the truck driver, who was not immediately identified.

Fifteen persons were admitted to Okeechobee General Hospital. Ambulances and fire fighting equipment throughout the sparsely settled area raced to the scene.

The lead locomotive of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad went up more than a quarter mile from the impact. Some of the cars overturned while 4 remained on the rails. Portions of the track were torn up.

The fire, caused by spewing oil from one of the diesel locomotives, was brought under control after two hours.

"I felt the jolt and I knew we had hit something," said conductor W. E. Kite, Jr., who was in the second car.

The next thing I knew I felt the ties and I knew we were off the track. Then the diesel jackknifed and slammed me into us blazing."

"The truck tried to get across in front of the train," related T. D. Emerson as the dazed, dirty engineer sat on the edge of a hospital bed while a nurse washed his cuts and bruises.

"That was the last I remember."

Bryan Elects New Officers For Hospital

Officers and departmental heads of the Bryan Memorial Hospital Medical Staff were elected Wednesday night following the annual Christmas dinner given the staff by the Hospital Board of Trustees.

Dr. Paul J. Maxwell, elected two years ago, is the incoming chief of staff.

In two years, Dr. M. A. Wood, chief-elect, will succeed Dr. Maxwell.

Dr. James H. Rickman was elected secretary, and Dr. K. T. McGinnis was chosen treasurer of the hospital staff.

Hospital department heads were also elected.

They are:

Internal medicine, Dr. Leonard R. Lee; general practice, Dr. B. F. Wendt; surgery, Dr. L. T. Davies; urology, Dr. L. F. Pfeifer, orthopedics, Dr. Harold R. Horn;

Children Treated After Accidents

Two children involved in separate accidents were treated at Lincoln hospitals Thursday for minor injuries.

Police said 9-year-old Jack L. Gray Jr., of 1810 Pepper ran diagonally into the 28th and Sumner intersection and hit the right bumper of a car driven by Fred L. Meehan, 40, of 400 Cornhusker Hwy. The boy was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

At 25th and R, 5-year-old Linda D. Hefner of 837 No. 26th ran into the side of a truck driven by Lionel E. Kaar, 34, of 2803 T.

He was traveling approximately 20 miles per hour, said police, who were told by the little girl she didn't see the truck coming. She was treated at Lincoln General Hospital.

Christmas Will Be Just Another Day

McAlester, Okla. (AP)—Christmas will be just another day of serving death row inmates for Kansas City Fat who has served 28 years in prison for a 15-cent holdup without having a visitor or getting a letter.

He'll get the $2 and two packages of cigarettes given each inmate on Christmas Day. But he won't expect the packages from home and Christmas greetings many prisoners receive.

And on Christmas Day, he'll be working on death row as usual, prison officials said, serving the condemned men their holiday meal.

Kansas City Fat's real name is George O. Jones, but few know that. "Kansas City Fat is all I've ever heard him called," said one prison official who admitted, "I didn't even know his real name until he came up for parole and got some publicity."

The 58-year-old Negro estimates he's seen 35,000 prisoners come and go. Friday he'll see another 100 leave, on Christmas commutations.

But Kansas City Fat won't be leaving, unless he unexpectedly gets a job offer.

He was recommended for parole 3 months ago, subject to getting a job. No offers have come so far.

Kansas City Fat had served auto theft terms in two other prisons — California's San Quentin and the federal government's Leavenworth — before he arrived here Oct. 1, 1934, on a life sentence for robbery with firearms in Tulsa.

ber, the other the 15-cent holdup which led to his sentence.

Prison records are hazy about his family.

Twelve Reformatory Men Get Paroles, Commutations

Twelve Reformatory inmates received Christmas gifts of paroles or commutations of sentence from the State Board of Pardons and Paroles Thursday.

The board acted favorably on all the cases heard.

Those commuted or paroled with name of person, age, home, crime, county where sentenced, length of term and date term started.

Bruce Palmer, 22, Massachusetts, issuing check to defraud Lancaster, 1½ yrs., Sept. 27, 1961.

Commuted and Discharged

Paul Shirley, 26, Arkansas, uttering forged instrument, 1½ yrs., Nov. 24, 1961.

Jan Miles, 19, Minnesota, auto theft, Polk, 1½-2 yrs., Dec. 7, 1961.

Guy Elrod, 28, California, Scots Bluff, forgery and parole violation, 2½ yrs., July 27, 1961.

Paroled

William G. Burress, 42, Omaha, statutory rape, Cass, 10 yrs., Nov. 13, 1959.

Harold Johnson, 27, Iowa, burglary and parole violation, Douglas, 13 yrs., Dec.

13, 1961.

Ernest Roberts, 40, Omaha, failure to support minor children, Douglas, 2 yrs.,

Dec. 7, 1961.

Clifford R. Bramble, 40, Kentucky, no

and check and parole violation, Hall, 3 years, Dec. 7, 1961.

William Beck, 19, California, burglar-age, Contra Costa, 1½ yrs., Aug. 18, 1961.

Walter E. Beck, 28, Pennsylvania burglary, Lincoln, 1½ yrs., Nov. 8, 1961.

Hazard Puzzle: Who Is In Need

Hazard, Ky. (UPI) — Dissension arose Thursday over distribution of money, food and clothing being sent from all parts of the nation into this southeastern Kentucky mountain area of economic depression and strife between coal operators and unemployed miners.

Recent news stories and a national television network program about grim hardship conditions in the coal-fields touched off a flood of donations from readers and viewers. The question now has come up as to who are the intended recipients.

Mrs. W. P. Nolan, publisher and editor of the weekly Hazard Herald, designated as receiving point for the donations, said "rumblings and

X15 Passes Test Minus Lower Tail

Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. (UPI) — Pilot Joe Walker Thursday flew the X15, a sprightly U.S. space senior citizen, on its first reentry into the earth's atmosphere without its lower tail.

The taciturn Walker, crack National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) pilot, hailed the flight as a successful test of stability under sensitive conditions without the lower tail. However, he withheld a blanket analysis until data could be evaluated.

The altitude — almost 30 miles, 157,000 feet — was the highest the X15 has been flown in the current series to find out if it and other winged aircraft would be more stable without the lower tail.

It was the 76th flight for an X15 in the 3½-year program, and was completed almost as a matter of routine after two faulty signals almost caused the cancellation of the flight.

The speed of 3,886 miles an hour, or more than 5 times the speed of sound, was almost 200 miles an hour greater than programmed. The altitude of 157,000 feet was, on the other hand, 16,000 under that anticipated.

Walker explained the lower altitude resulted because the sun caused him to briefly take his eyes off instruments and by the time he had adjusted to the glare a few seconds later he could not attain the exact figure.

However, all else went as planned — including a "nose-up," or angle of attack, maneuver shortly before the peak altitude was reached.

WILLIAM R. PETHICK

Christmas Present—Freedom

Joliet, Ill. (UPI) — Illinois parole officials and the Salvation Army are preparing a Christmas present for a 69-year-old man — his freedom after 47 years in prison.

William Russell Pethick was committed to prison for life in 1915. Then 21, Pethick was convicted of the knife slaying of a Chicago housewife and her 2-year-old son.

She was reluctant to disclose how much had been received or promised, but said, "we have at least $10,000 in the bank. It will all be accounted for." Nearly all the gifts, she said, were designated just for "the needy," or "the children," without reference to the labor troubles.

Some shipments of clothing and food also have been received, and this type of donation is expected to grow rapidly.

For example, a Norfolk, Va., lady, Mrs. Katherine Noel, who saw the television program, organized a drive of her own to collect clothing, food and toys.

She and her husband Donald, a sailor, filled their home with more than 500 boxes of donations, which they are bringing to Hazard.

The Illinois Board of Parole and Paroles agreed to give Pethick his freedom if a job and a home were found.

Pethick sought freedom in 1935, 1941, 1947 and 1955. The board turned him down. Then on Nov. 28 the board held a special hearing and a Chicago newspaper reporter — Leroy McHugh of Chicago's American — who covered the slaying case 47 years ago, testified.

McHugh said he heard of Pethick, his good record and the lessons he learned in prison. He said he wanted the parole board to consider Pethick's case. The board agreed.

Look Alive Matey Or Pirates Will Take Mo

... BREMERTON, WASH., TARS ON WATCH

Bremerton, Wash. (UPI)—

Now hear this! The entire populace of this city of 37,000 has cleared the decks for action and is rallying to the cry, "don't give up the ship!"

The ship is the USS Missouri—the Mighty Mo.

And if anyone—including former President Harry S. Truman and Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco—thinks he's going to get the Mo away from the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard, well, mister, Bremerton has just begun to fight.

Christopher wants the battlewagon berthed in San Francisco. Truman wants her towed up the Mississippi to St. Louis, which, of course, is in Missouri.

Alerted

But Bremerton is a Navy town and the swabbies and landlubbers alike have been alerted to stand by and repel boarders.

"Why, they might make a honky-tonk out of her down in San Francisco," Said H. A. Fischer, head of the Bremerton Navy League.

"I can just see this American shrine down at Fisher's Wharf, surrounded by hot-dog stands."

Top Referee

Major White Domstad, former Navy enlisted man, former professional pugilist and current top professional boxing referee in this region, said:

"We won't stand for any low blows. Bremerton deserves the Mo. This is where she was decommissioned and this is her home. This is where the Navy has personnel to care for her properly and to put her into active shape if the need should arise. This community loves her."

Domstad and his crew are ready to take on undersecretary of the Navy Paul B. Fay Jr., if necessary. Fay said that if anyone was willing to pay the price, the Mighty Mo would be shaped up and shipped out.

It was Fay that Truman, a former Army captain, consulted about moving the Mo to Missouri.

Christened

By the way, the Missouri was christened by Harry's daughter, Margaret.

Cost of towing the ship to San Francisco would be about $300,000. How much it would take to get her to St. Louis is anybody's guess, and it must be remembered that Missouri is the "Show Me State." It also requires about $100,000 a year to maintain the vessel with its housekeeping crew of 10.

"If any of these cities are ready to foot the bill, she'll go," said Fay.

But without a fight.

To The Skipper

Washington's congressional delegation has been recruited. And if necessary, they may take the battle right up to a former PT boat skipper who now happens to be the commander-in-chief of the whole shooting match.

Which brings to mind the fact that it was on the Mighty Mo's foredeck that an instrument of surrender was signed that ended the last great war.

Police said Gostlin had been drinking for hours beforehand.

Richard Condit, assistant Oakland County prosecutor, said Gostlin admitted attacking Mrs. Husted.

Gostlin, father of a baby son, is separated from his wife, Betty, 17. He recently served 30 days in jail for non-support.

The young wife described Gostlin as a "gentle boy but somewhat confused."

Youth Doesn't Know Why He Staged Attack

Novi, Mich. (AP) — Insisting "I don't know why I did it," James Gostlin, 20, was charged with murder Thursday in the hammer slaying of Shirley Husted, 13, a neighbor's daughter.

Shirley, one of 4 daughters of school bus driver Wesley Husted, was slain when, police said, Gostlin broke into the home shortly after midnight, terrorized the family, and kidnapped the mother. Her father also was beaten with the hammer and was hospitalized in critical condition.

After freeing the mother, Mrs. Rita Husted, 33, miles away in Dearborn, Gostlin walked into Dearborn police headquarters, put the hammer on a table, and said "I just killed two people."

Police said Gostlin had been drinking for hours beforehand.

Richard Condit, assistant Oakland County prosecutor, said Gostlin admitted attacking Mrs. Husted.

29 Nationals Become U.S. Citizens

Twenty-nine foreign nationals became United States citizens Thursday during naturalization proceedings in U.S. District Court at Lincoln.

The oath of citizenship and allegiance was administered to the new citizens before Judge Robert Van Pelt.

The judge told the new citizens: "The United States has only one class of citizenship. It's the same whether by birth or by naturalization."

The new citizens and their birthplace:

CHATTER — in the — CORRIDOR

By SANDIE LAW

Merry Christmas, everyone! Yesterday, when the 3:15 bell rang, everyone was on vacation until January 2. It won't be long before you can find out what is in the decorative packages under the Christmas tree.

On Tuesday morning, December 18, all the music classes of Lincoln Northeast presented the student body with the traditional Christmas program. At the beginning of the assembly, the bleachers collapsed. We were very fortunate that no one was hurt. The assembly went on as scheduled. That night the students presented the program to their friends, parents, and neighbors and we were glad to have such a large crowd attend this affair. Mrs. Velma Snook led the vocal section while Duane Schulz directed the orchestra. It was an inspiration for everyone.

Congratulations, Nancy Wolf, for being named as the Queen of the Future Agricultural Association of America. The honorary degree of king was given to Warren Parker, a former Lincoln school board member.

Our sophomore Rocket basketball team met Lincoln High's sophomores on Tuesday, December 18, and another victory was added to their list. The winning score was 37-32. Congratulations, boys! Keep up the good work!

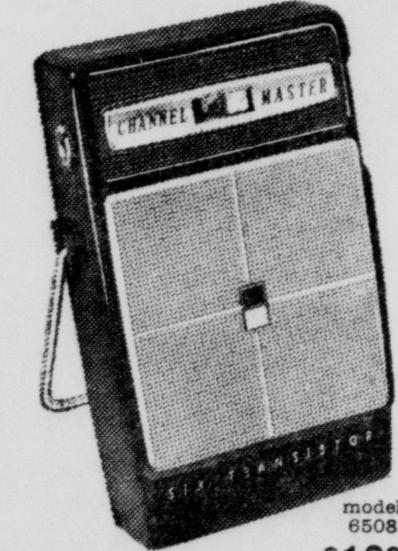

On December 19, Wednesday, our wrestlers beat Lincoln Southeast by a score of 24 to 19.

On December 12, a recital of instrumental soloists and small groups were featured in the LN auditorium. These students, from the instrumental music classes, demonstrated their ability as soloist, or in a small group, before their fellow students and the public. Soloists were Susan Henderson, violin; Doug Hill, French horn; Garland Kiner, violin; and Kay Walters, cello. Steve Lawson, Frank Lee, and Paul Craig composed the Trombone Trio. Don Looker, Charles Davidson, and John Lecker were members of the trumpet trio.

Tonight Anne Gordon will hostess to a Christmas slumber party for 10 girls. Hope they get a little bit of sleep!

A Senior Composition teacher, Mrs. Helen Krause, attended the NCUA (National Council of Urban Education Association) in Miami, Fla. This was a joint conference of presidents and executive secretaries of ur-

TALK

It is not even remotely surprising that Christmas is dominating the activity these days. The current morning is bulging with news of Christmas guests who have — or are — arriving in time for holiday week. Among these guests we must count members of the away-at-school set who will be spending the holidays with their parents.

We've been wanting to tell you that Francis Watson arrived late last week already is in town. He came from Taft School, Watertown, Conn., late last week to be the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Watson.

And home on Wednesday evening was Miss Jill Cole, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Cole. Miss Cole is a junior at Smith College, Northampton, Mass., and will return to her classes on Jan. 12.

Then there is 'Corky' Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Corwin Moore, who returned home last evening for the Christmas holidays. Mr. Moore, a junior at Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio, plans to make the most of Christmas at home this year. He won't be here next year since he is going to Austria to study.

Expected on Saturday are Mr. and Mrs. L. John Polite of Aspinwall, Pa., formerly of Lincoln, who will be the holiday house guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Grant and their four children, Barbara, Patty, Paula and Jimmy.

Also arriving on Saturday will be Mr. Grant's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Turner and their children, Catherine Ann, David and Nancy who will come from Mt. Prospect, Ill., to join the family group for Christmas, and to be the house guests of Mrs. Turner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Grant.

Today will find Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Devoe greeting their holiday guests — their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Don Devoe and their sons — twins Mark and David — and Scott.

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

Two more shopping days until Christmas, and another column full of busy people, festive parties, and holiday visitors in Suburbia.

Christmas will be spent in a new home by former Country Club Terrace residents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Schindel. Mr. and Mrs. Schindel left Lincoln on Tuesday, and are now making their home in Boulder, Colo.

Mr. Schindel represented a national oil company here in Lincoln for many years, and will be going into the contracting business in Boulder.

Bridge was popular again this week in the neighborhood, and besides the regular groups that played during the week, Mrs. Van Hunn entertained several Lincoln friends at an informal party at her home on Tuesday evening.

Besides cards, there was a birthday celebration for Mrs. Stan Peters.

Christmas coffees always are popular, around holiday time, that is, and there were two of them in Country Club Terrace this week.

One was hosted by Mrs. G. E. Pokorny on Tuesday afternoon, when her guests were the wives of Mr. Pokorny's fellow employees.

Attending the Tuesday holiday coffee were Mrs. Dick Large, Mrs. Jack Van Dyncik, Mrs. Robert Kamber, Mrs. Denny Cochran, Mrs. Gordon Ballew, Mrs. Jack Marcy, Mrs. John Cooper, Mrs. Lloyd Keller, Mrs. James Oakley, Mrs. Melvin Roberts, and Mrs. Glen Schuker.

Then, on Thursday morning there was the coffee for which Mrs. N. L. (Lee) Adams was hostess at her home. The guest list included neighbors and their preschool children.

In the group were Mrs. Charles Sullivan, Mrs. Charles Burger, Mrs. Jerry Trimble, Mrs. Alvie Emerson, Mrs. Hollis Jennings, Mrs. Dwight Snee, Mrs. Van Giunta, Mrs. Pat Mulligan, Mrs. John Hoffman, and all their little ones.

Mrs. Mulligan and Mrs. Hoffman are former Country Club Terrace residents who now are residing elsewhere in Lincoln.

More Christmas plans include a trip to Clatonia for Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hirsch and Mrs. Hirsch's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Young, organist.

Attending her sister-in-law as matron of honor was Mrs. James W. Sipp who was frocked in holly red lace over taffeta. She carried a bouquet of gardenias.

James W. Sipp, brother of the bride, served Mr. Skinner as best man.

FUN NEWS IN SUBURBIA

And Christmas Eve plans for Mr. and Mrs. William P. Thornton and their children, Marcia, Shelley, Robert, Ned, and Phyllis, include an evening to be spent with Mrs. Thornton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Weaver, here in Lincoln.

Also at the Weaver home will be Mrs. Thornton's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Weaver Jr. and Matt.

COUNTRY CLUB MANOR

This entire weekend, plus Christmas Day, will be very exciting for Country Club Manor resident, Mrs. Delia Skinner, for she is welcoming members of her family from Illinois, Minnesota, Arizona, Nebraska, and Missouri.

Arriving today will be Mrs. Skinnern's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burnett, who are coming from Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Burnett's arrival in Lincoln was preceded last night by the arrival of their son, John, who came from Faribault, Minn., where he is a student at Shattuck.

An Arizona visitor will have into port on Sunday, and she is another of Mrs. Skinner's daughters, Miss Helen Skinner. Miss Skinner will be coming from her home in Prescott.

And on Monday, Omaha and Kansas City, Mo., visitors arrive. Coming from Omaha will be another son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Dailey, who will be accompanied by their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dailey and their sons, Thomas and Robert.

Mrs. Skinner's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Delano Skinner, will be the Kansas City guests arriving that day.

Sounds as though Christmas will be a very busy day for three generations at the Skinner home!

INDIAN HILLS

Off to spend the day in Lindsay recently were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Connally and their sons, Jay and Stephen. In Lindsay, they were the guests of Mr. Connally's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Connally.

Later last week Mr. and Mrs. Connally helped celebrate the birthday of Mr. Connally's sister, Miss Marie Anne Connally, here in Lincoln.

Several other relatives and friends of Miss Connally were on hand for the celebration.

"Castle" A Gift To Hospital

Give a group of third graders some oatmeal cartons, shoe boxes, and waxed paper roles, and they can create about anything — including this Christmasy snow castle that is now adding to the holiday atmosphere in the children's ward at Bryan Memorial Hospital.

The third grade creators of this holiday masterpiece are students of Mrs. Bruce Isherwood at Culler Elementary School. The youngsters assembled the various sized and shaped boxes into the form of the castle, and then "frosted" it with a mixture of soap flakes and water beaten with egg beaters. They did it all themselves under the watchful eyes of Mrs. Isherwood and their student teacher from Wesleyan, Miss Penny Kirk.

For the past several days the castle has been part of

You As A Mop?

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I admit I don't keep a very clean house but it's not my fault. My mother hated housework and she never bothered much with housekeeping. She taught me to put the housework last and said, "If you don't clean your house, your husband will." Maybe this is a poor excuse, but it's the truth and I just had to get it off my chest.

POOR HOUSEKEEPER
DEAR POOR HOUSEKEEPER: Your mother's advice sounds like a feeble excuse for poor housemanship. To complete the picture she should have added, "There are many husbands who are mopping the floor with their wives every day." Get organized, Honey.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for some girls who need it. It expresses my feelings and the feelings of many of my friends. If a girl doesn't wear lipstick — even if she isn't so hot — I would sooner kiss her than the girl with lipstick, because guys who come home with lipstick on their shirts almost get killed by their mothers. I thank you.

FIFTEEN AND ALMOST KILLED ONCE

DEAR ABBY: You may consider this a silly question, but please, darling, try to help me. I have just lost my fifth garbage can! The last one I painted with black enamel, "PLEASE DO NOT neckline, highlighted with pearl and sequin embroidery, and the bouffant skirt of lace was completed at the back by alternate tiers of lace and tulle. A queen's crown of pearls held her illusion veil, and she carried a white Bible ornamented with deep pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. TeSelle will make their home on a farm near Firth.

We Hear That

Miss Donna Kalleymen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kalleymen of Hickman, became the bride of Calvin TeSelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley TeSelle also of Hickman, at a ceremony solemnized Thursday evening, Dec. 20. The Rev. D. J. Kolenbrander read the lines of the 8 o'clock service at the Holland Reformed Church, and Mrs. Thomas Hayman, organist, played the wedding music. Mrs. Hayman also accompanied Clifford Pape, the vocal soloist.

Wearing identical, bell-skirted frocks of pink velvet were Miss Glenda Wissink of Hickman as the maid of honor; Evelyn Wieskamp, Hickman, Mrs. Robert DeBoer, Firth, and Miss Carol Mays, Lincoln, the bridesmaids; and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Judy Huenink, Hickman. The attendants carried snowball arrangements of white carnations.

Eugene Huenink of Hickman served Mr. TeSelle as best man, and seating the guests were Robert DeBoer and Ivan Walvoord, Firth; Ronald Liesveld, Holland; and Larry Kalleymen, Hickman.

The bride chose white French lace and tulle for her wedding gown. The long-sleeved basque of lace was fashioned with a portrait

Holiday guests in Lincoln are Mrs. Mitchell Sexton and her small daughter, Michelle, of Oklahoma City who arrived last Sunday to be the guests of Mrs. Sexton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin R. Dorn. Mr. Sexton will join his family on Saturday in time for Christmas and will accompany them home next week.

Spending the holidays with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Shannon, is Miss Margaret Shannon, a student at Transylvania College, Lexington, Ky. A graduate of Lincoln High School, Miss Shannon is active in college music circles and serves as organist for the Transylvania traveling choir.

Arriving on Sunday to spend Christmas week in Lincoln as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Walker will be Mr. Walker's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Art Walker of Ephrata, Wash.

A Rare Defensive Play

B. Jay Becker

TEST YOUR PLAY
You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

East	South	West	North
1♣	Pass	1♥	Pass
3♦	Pass	4♦	Pass
5♣

Which card would you choose as your opening lead in each of the following four hands?

1. ♠K6 ♦J975 ♣KJ42 ♣A842
2. ♠K8753 ♦Q62 ♣K3 ♣A42
3. ♠QJ6 ♦9742 ♣Q943 ♣72
4. ♠J1082 ♦9 ♣Q975 ♣K83

1. Two of clubs. The opening lead is highly important in the play of most hands, yet relatively little has been written on the subject. There is a good reason for this. Opening leads simply don't lend themselves to general rules. Each hand has to stand on its own feet.

Take this deal, for instance. No one can prove positively that the best lead is a club; another lead might work out better. However, in our view, a trump lead figures to do the most good, or, stated otherwise, the least harm.

There are two good reasons for the club lead. One is that it may reduce possible ruffs in dummy. For example, dummy may have a singleton diamond. The other and more important reason is that we want to preserve our trick-taking potential and not run the risk of losing a trick by a more aggressive lead. Passive defense is beat in some hands.

2. King of diamonds. Of course, this is a highly aggressive lead and somewhat unusual, but this is the king of hand where a "safe" lead, such as a spade, is likely to prove ineffective. It is hardly likely that your side can win three defensive tricks by straight play. The heart holding of three to the queen in front of the heart bidder is bad, and the indications are that declarer will be able to establish dummy's suit for valuable discards.

You have to attack boldly with this type of hand. The king of diamonds is led in the hope that partner has the queen (he can scarcely have the ace). If this is the case, you may score a club, a diamond, and a diamond ruff.

3. Queen of spades. Another attacking lead. You hope to establish one or two spade tricks if your partner has the king or ace, and then get a third trick, depending on the values partner has.

4. Nine of hearts. Presumably you have a club trick, since the ace is almost surely on your right. You also have to assume that partner has a trick; otherwise, your cause is hopeless. That adds up to two tricks.

You hope to gain a third trick by obtaining a heart ruff, and you therefore lead the singleton. If partner has any ace, the chances are that you'll defeat the hand with the heart lead.

Stan Delaplane

(We sent our girl O'Hara to Sardinia where they are having a shooting vendetta. She reports in from time to time. This from SS Independence.)

Sailing day is a pretty swinging arrangement. They blow those "All Ashore Who's Going Ashore" whistles and happy panic sets in immediately.

Champagne corks pop a little faster. Telegrams. Flowers. Hugging, and kissing comes in bulk form. Lots of bon voyage gifts. I always seem to get something heavy, breakable or embarrassing. This one is a leather book with "My Trip" printed in gold on the cover.

The SS Independence is a well equipped ship. A Dana Andrews-type Captain. A handsomer Staff Captain—looks wonderful in a dinner jacket but like he swears when he is putting it on.

The rest of the officers are right out of Central Casting. Looks like a full muster for that picture. "The Longest Day." You are not allowed to fraternize with them. The officers are not Negotiable Assets. But you can window shop.

The ladies of the passenger table.

I am easy to please. If list would sign on for dry docking if they kept the same crew.

We sailed with 1100 passengers. It is just like an Audrey Hepburn movie on the Late Late show—the New York skyline and all that. Like a picture postcard rack. Very thrilling and chokey in the throat. No matter who you're saying goodbye to you can get with it.

Assigning tables is a traumatic experience for many people. Everyone has visions of sitting at the Captain's table. (I am easy to please. If I don't have to stand in line, carry my own tray or help with the dishes, I am happy.)

If you are not assigned to the Captain's table, you have a chance of making it at the Staff Captain's. Or the Chief Engineer's. Or the Purser's, the Chief Radio Operator's or the Doctor's.

On Sailing Night, the Captain and officers do not eat in the dining room at their assigned tables.

The Sea Story on this is that they are all busy with the business of navigation and other vague functions.

I think the real reason is they are afraid to show up.

Sometimes you get a lot of sulking from the losers.

Eating is the big thing on shipboard. We have Charlie Regis as Chief Steward and Lou Leonard is the masseur. I think they get together each day and decide how much ballast is to be placed where. Charlie puts it on. Lou takes it off.

Anyway, it's been great. And a lot more fun to see Gibraltar for its real self rather than on the return address corner of a window envelope from the insurance company.

Will get right with the vendetta soonest. Naples is in sight. Land ho! O'Hara.

Insurance Rule Discussed

Some 60 insurance company representatives Thursday appeared at a public hearing here on a proposed rule prohibiting certain practices in the sale of so-called profit-sharing and charter insurance policies.

Generally, there was no opposition to the intent of the rule, but concern was voiced over some of the "broad" language used in it.

The hearing was conducted by the State Insurance Department with Director Frank Barrett presiding.

The rule is intended to prohibit certain action practices as deceptive, misleading or otherwise in violation of the law.

FITTING FOR ANY PARTY

Now that the winter and itself for a dessert luncheon. The recipe easily serves 10-12.

The walnuts called for in the recipe have been toasted to give them an extra special flavor. To toast them, here's all you do. Just drop the kernels in boiling water for three minutes. Then drain well, and spread them in a shallow pan and toast at 350 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. Stir them frequently till they're golden all over. Incidentally, when you're fixing them this way, you may want to do some extras for nibbling. While the kernels are still warm, brush them with butter and sprinkle generously with salt (or garlic salt). This is a favorite way to fix walnut kernels for parties.

WALNUT CHIFFON FRUIT CAKE

1½ envelopes plain gelatin
½ cup Sherry or rum flavoring
2 eggs, separated
½ cup milk
½ cup granulated sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
2 cups (1 pint) small curd cottage cheese
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
3 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons vanilla
½ cup chopped toasted walnuts
½ cup coarsely chopped raisins
½ cup coarsely grated citron
1 cup mixed finely chopped candied cherries, pineapple and orange peel
1 cup whipping cream
Zwiebach crust

Soften gelatin in Sherry. Beat egg yolks; combine with milk, sugar and salt. Cook over low heat, stirring until mixture thickens and coats spoon. Add gelatin, stirring until dissolved; remove from heat. Stir in cottage cheese (pressed through sieve if very smooth mixture is desired), lemon rind and juice and vanilla. Chill until thickened. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites, walnuts and fruit. Fold in stiffly beaten cream. Turn into zwiebach lined 9-inch spring form pan; chill until firm. Remove outer ring from pan and arrange cake on serving plate. Garnish top with walnut halves and candied cherries, if desired. Cut in wedges to serve. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

ZWEIBACH CRUST
Combine 1 cup zwiebach crumbs, 2 tablespoons granulated sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon and 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine. Turn into bottom of a 9-inch spring form pan; press crumbs firmly into an even layer. Chill while preparing the filling.

PAPRICKA BUTTER Soften 4 ounces of butter and add one teaspoon of paprika and ¼ teaspoon of dry mustard. Stir until thoroughly blended. Spread on salty rye slices.

CAVIAR BUTTER Blend 3 ounces of caviar with four ounces of sweet butter and mix until smooth. Spread on salty rye slices.

CURRY BUTTER Soften 4 ounces of butter with about one tablespoon of curry powder (depending on taste) and a few drops of white wine or consomme. Blend thoroughly and spread on salty rye slices.

FIG FRITTERS

1 cup pancake mix
½ cup milk
1 tablespoon salad oil
1 tablespoon sugar
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon grated orange peel

About 20 Dried Figs
Salad oil

Combine first six ingredients, beating just until smooth. Dip each fig in batter, then drop into oil heated to 350°. Cook to a golden brown. Drain on paper towels. Sprinkle with sugar. Makes about 20 fritters.

An unusual dessert or snack with a thin, yet crunchy doughnut-like coating over figs.

Dessert Sauce

Chocolate Dessert Sauce stocked in the refrigerator will come in handy when ice cream is the dessert choice. In the top of a double boiler, mix 2 eggs and ½ cup sugar. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is amber colored. Add 1 stick butter and 2 squares semi-sweet chocolate, melted. Continue heating, stirring constantly until butter is melted.

Chutney Gives Just The Right Touch

Chutney usually is associated with exotic East Indian curries. But we are making a mistake if we only use chutney with curries.

Almost any fruit can be turned into a flavorful chutney that serves as a delightful accompaniment to most meats, hot or cold. At this time of year a piquant chutney relish is particularly perfect for that leftover cold turkey or other bird. You will find the chutneys below easy to make, and chances are you will keep them on hand as exotic standards by relishes.

CRANBERRY CHUTNEY

1 can (1 pound) whole cranberry sauce
½ cup seedless raisins
½ cup finely chopped almonds
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 tablespoon vinegar
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
¼ teaspoon ginger
Dash of cayenne or red pepper

Combine all ingredients and chill. Yield: About 1 pint.

PEACH CHUTNEY

1 No. 2½ can cling peach slices
½ cup syrup from peaches
1 lemon
¾ cup vinegar
½ cup finely chopped green pepper
½ cup packed brown sugar
3 tablespoons chopped candied ginger
2 tablespoons instant

minced onion
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon black pepper
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg
Dash or two of cayenne pepper
Drain peaches, reserving ½ cup syrup. Break up peach slices with fork. Slice lemon very thin. Combine all ingredients and simmer over low heat until thick, 1 or 2 hours. Cool and store in covered jar in refrigerator to use as needed.

ed. Yield: About 1 quart.
APPLE CHUTNEY
6 medium-sized ripe tomatoes
2 cups apples, slightly green
2 cups seedless raisins
1 cup onions
1½ pounds brown sugar
2 cups vinegar
¼ cup coarse salt
4 ounces white mustard seed
2 ounces candied ginger
½ teaspoon cayenne pepper
Wash tomatoes and apples. Skin and quarter tomatoes. Core and cut apples into chunks. Peel and mince onions. Chop raisins. Combine all ingredients and cook slowly for 3 hours. Pack quickly in hot, sterilized jars to within ½-inch from top. Seal each jar at once. Yield: About 3 pints.

Cheese Dip

It only takes minutes to whip up this zesty cheese dip to serve with cracker or potato chips. In the small bowl of an electric mixer place an 8-ounce package of softened cream cheese and ¾ cup (3 ounces) crumbled blue cheese. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice and 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce and mix at medium speed until well blended. Reduce to low speed and gradually add ½ cup evaporated milk, mixing until smoothly blended. Keep chilled until ready to serve. Makes 1 ¼ cups delicious cheese dip.

BAVARIAN SAUERKRAUT BALLS WITH CARAWAY TOMATO SAUCE

(Makes about 5 dozen)
½ cup finely chopped onion
2 Tablespoons poly-unsaturated oil
½ pound lean boneless ham, ground
½ pound corned beef or pastrami, ground
½ cup flour
1 Tablespoon minced parsley
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce

1 (1 lb., 11 oz.) can sauerkraut, drained and chopped
1 egg, slightly beaten
Bread crumbs
Caraway Tomato Sauce
Sauté onion in oil until tender. Add ham and corned beef, heat thoroughly. Sprinkle on mixture of flour, parsley, salt, and mustard; mix well. Pour on tomato sauce and simmer about five minutes. Stir in sauerkraut and cook, stirring constantly until thick. Cool. Form into bite-size balls. Roll in flour, dip in egg and roll in crumbs. Fry in oil heated to 375 degrees F until golden brown, about three minutes. Serve hot or cold with:

CARAWAY TOMATO SAUCE

Pour one (8-ounce) can tomato sauce into a saucepan. Add 2 teaspoons dark brown sugar and ½ teaspoon Caraway seeds. Simmer slowly 10 to 15 minutes.

BURGER BUNLETS

(Makes 40)
2 Tablespoons poly-unsaturated oil
1 medium onion, finely chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
1 pound ground beef
3 Tablespoons flour
1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce
½ cup drained pickle relish

Why one of the most expensive hams is the sensible ham to serve

Strangely, the story begins with what you don't get in "Ham What Am" by Armour. Right from the start, we begin to leave things out.

One pig in four

Four little pigs go to market, but we reject three of them. Only the lean, tender one is good enough for the "Ham What Am."

Then, figuring you don't want to pay for bones and skin, we remove them. Off comes the shank, too. It's just not good enough for your "Ham What Am." Next, the fat goes. Not just the outside, but inside too, leaving just enough fat for flavor.

Hickory...and a slow fire

For smoking we use hickory wood. Only hickory smoke, we've found, gives the "Ham What Am" the smoky sweet flavor you like.

Finally, we nestle your "Ham What Am" into its container, and cook it. Our slow, lazy cooking keeps the ham from shrinking in your oven. And seals in all the juices and flavor.

The rest is up to you. Slice the ham and serve it cold. Heat it. Bake it. Or fancy it up with glazes, garnishes, or whizot.

No waste

By now, you'll know why the "Ham What Am" although expensive, is the sensible ham to serve.

The reason is, every morsel is good eating—lean, tender, juicy. So, you see, it really isn't expensive after all. Serve the "Ham What Am" all year 'round. It comes in sizes to fit any family: 1½, 3, 4, 5, 6, 9, 10 lbs. But not all canned hams are the "Ham What Am." So ask for it by name.

Ham What Am

BY ARMOUR

The prize part of the ham, pampered to perfection.

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:
The United States, including the new states of Alaska and Hawaii, covers an area of 5,625,000 square miles.

General sales tax collections soared to more than $5 billion in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1962, topping all other sources of revenue in 30 states, according to Commerce Clearing House.

Sao Paulo, Brazil, has 56,900 industrial plants, employing 1,016,400 workers.

It is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper-left-hand corner of the section and count across every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. CYCLONES LOSE, 87-52

Logan, Utah (UPI) — Utah State University built up a quick lead and kept expanding it Thursday night as the Aggies rolled to an easy 87-52 drubbing of Iowa State in an intersectional game here.

The Aggies jumped out to a quick 15-4 lead and built it up to 40-26 by halftime.

Center Troy Collier led USU with 23 points, while forwards Larry Angle and Wayne Estes added 19 and 14 respectively.

The Cyclones, from Ames, Iowa, were led by guard Dave Groth who had 12. Gary Kleven, the team's leading scorer with a 16-point average, could manage only two field goals.

Cardinals Lose $73,000 In 1962

St. Louis (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals suffered a $73,000 loss during 1962. General Manager Bing Devine said Thursday.

Devine said the loss was due to team replacement expenses which amounted to $1,350,000.

The Cardinals, however, increased their home and road attendance this year, Devine said. This resulted in an increase in revenue over 1961 of $152,000, and contributed to an over-all game operating profit of $1,217,000, before the game replacement expense.

Home attendance for the Redbirds was 953,895. They drew 1,242,091, on the road.

Sheridan JC Falls To Scottsbluff JC, 93-61

Buffalo, Wyo., (AP) — Scottsbluff JC dumped Sheridan JC for the second straight night Thursday, chalking up a 93-61 basketball win as 4 Scottsbluff players scored in double figures. Scottsbluff led 42-29 at the half.

Leroy Smith led Scottsbluff with 22 points and Tom Stumpf was tops for Sheridan with 16.

LAST-SECOND SHOT GIVES CHADRON 69-67 VICTORY

Rapid City, S.D. (UPI) — A 20-foot shot in the last second by Allen Lawrence gave Chadron a 69-67 basketball win over South Dakota Tech Thursday night.

Lawrence was the game's high man with 20 points as 4 Chadron players were in double figures. Dan Matthairess and Denny Gandy both had 18 for Tech.

The score was tied at 33-33 at the half.

SIXTEEN TINY TIMS GO ON CHRISTMAS STRIKE

London (P) — Sixteen Tiny Timms of British horse racing have gone on a Christmas strike.

The lads, all attached to

Fred Armstrong's stable, claim Armstrong has fined them by amounts ranging from a shilling (14 cents) to 2 shillings (28 cents) for reporting late for work. The boys, training to become jockeys, exercise the horses in training.

Retention Could Stop Reds' Sale

Columbus, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy's office said Thursday approval of an agreement to keep the Cincinnati Reds baseball team in that city for at least 10 years could end litigation to upset proposed sale of the National League club.

Theodore Saker, first assistant attorney general, said the 10-year agreement is a major item in a proposal to settle differences in the baseball squabble.

McElroy sued in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court last June for $5.3 million in damages from William O. DeWitt, president and general manager of the Reds, and trustees of the Crosley Foundation, owner of the baseball club since the death of Powel Crosley Jr.

An attempted out-of-court settlement in the dispute broke down earlier this year and McElroy said that as a result he would push his court action.

Settlement negotiations were renewed, however, and it was learned recently that a 10-year stay in Cincinnati was under consideration.

J. W. Brown and Ben Gettier, special counsel for McElroy, declined comment on the negotiations.

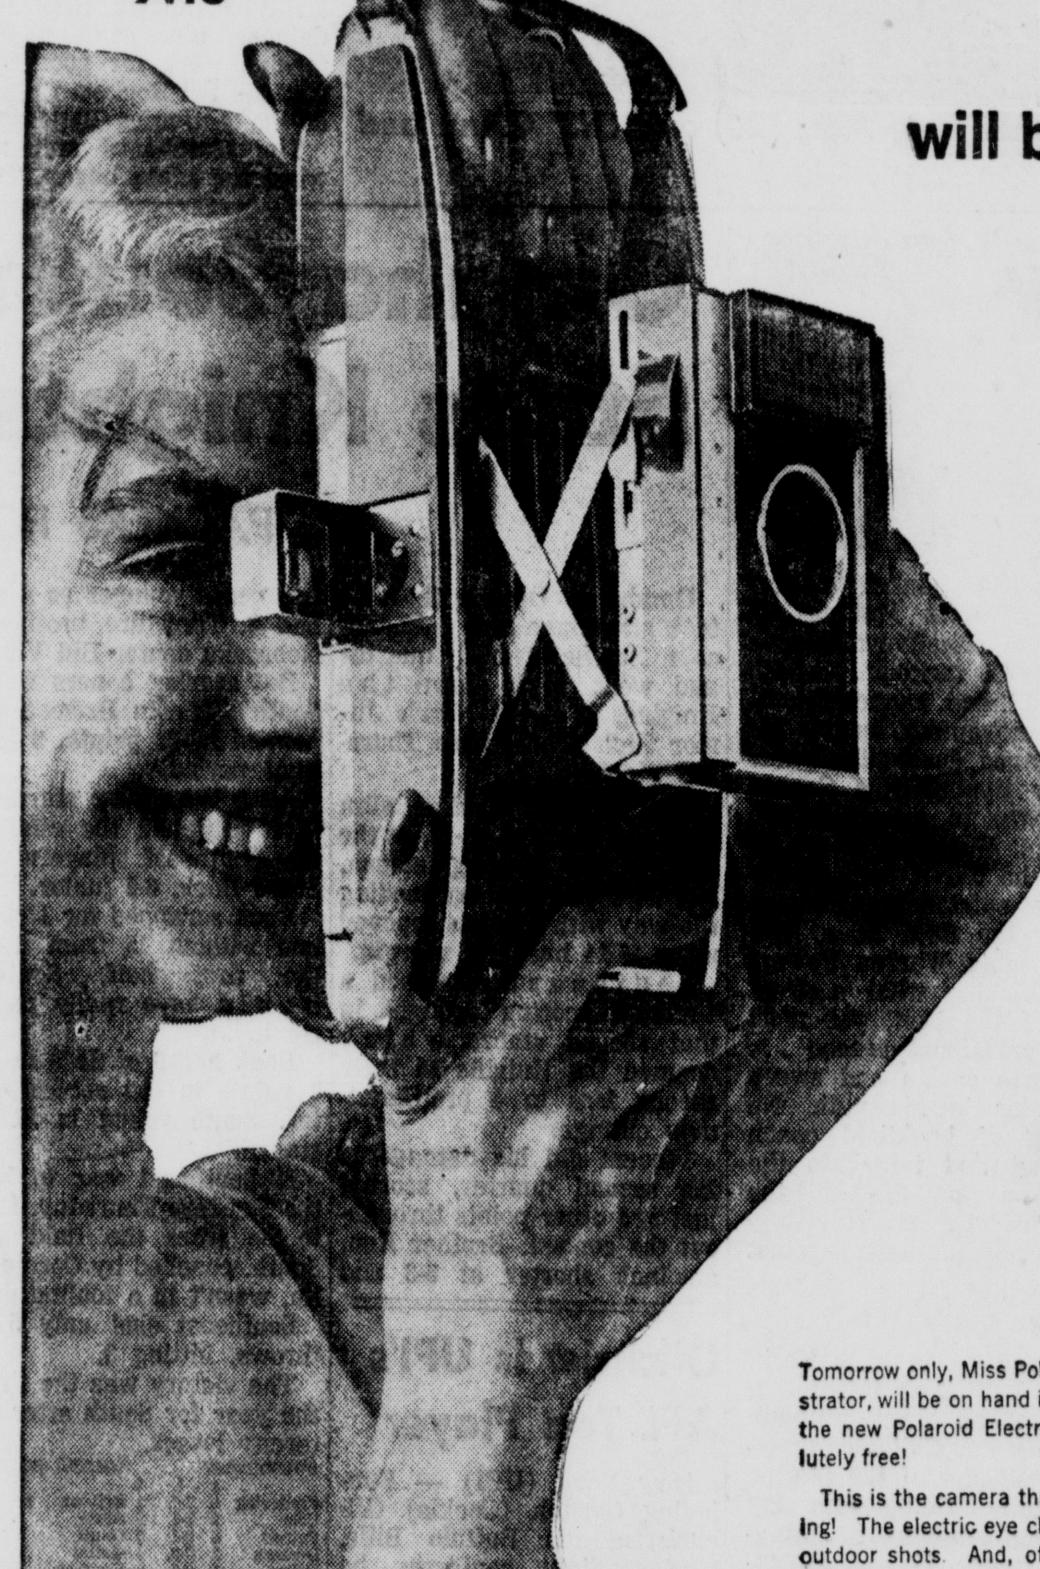

"There has been progress, but the negotiations are not complete and there is nothing further I can say," Brown said.

McElroy added that information could not be released until negotiations are completed.

Missouri Hands Vols 1st Defeat

Columbia, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri Tigers zoomed from behind in the last 4 minutes and made a stall pay off Thursday night to hand Tennessee its first defeat of the basketball season 54-47.

Missouri's Don Early hit 6 points in the last minute and a half to insure the victory.

Tennessee, after a slow start, built a 26-20 halftime edge and quickly widened it to 32-20 in the second half.

Missouri dug in and caught up at 43-43 on Ken Dougherty's lay-up with 5:40 to go. Jerry Parker and Orb Bowling put Tennessee ahead again twice before Ron Mooney's jumper at 4:33 gave the Tigers a 46-45 lead and enabled them to start the stall.

Ray Bob Carey collected two free throws and Early added his 6 points for the final margin.

Tennessee turned frigid and went nearly 8 minutes without a field goal until Pat Robinette hit a jump shot with 1:14 left.

Secret Session Hits Hoffa Trial

Nashville, Tenn. (AP) — The James R. Hoffa conspiracy trial held another secret session late Thursday after the defense concluded its closing arguments.

The hour-long closed session, held at the government's request, delayed completion of the prosecution's final arguments until Friday morning. The 9-week-old federal district court trial is expected to reach the jury by afternoon.

There was no inkling of what transpired at the secret session, which newsmen were permitted to witness through small glass panels in the courtroom door. But after a similar session two weeks ago a woman juror was replaced by an alternate.

No Comment

Neither the judge nor attorneys would say why she was removed and these same persons declined to comment on the reason for Thursday's unexpected session.

Hoffa, president of the 1.5 million member Teamsters Union, is charged with conspiring to violate the Taft-Hartley Act by using his union influence to form a profitable trucking business.

Z. T. Osborn Jr., concluding the defense' 3½-hour summation, told the jury the government's case was built on "a tissue of half truths and distortions."

Criticized

The Nashville lawyer criticized the government for trying the case here rather than in Michigan where most of the alleged illegal acts occurred.

Osborn said Nashville was selected because government attorneys hoped "in this not so heavily industrialized area

One Valparaiso Youth Seriously Hurt In Accident

Only one of 5 Valparaiso youths injured when their car plowed into a dead-end road's embankment was listed in serious condition late Thursday.

He was Bob Klement, 15, a passenger in the car that crashed 5 miles west of Agnew. The Valparaiso rescue squad took all 5 to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Conditions of the other 4: Larry Rejda, 18, the driver, fair; Rick Egr, 16, fair; Walt Hodman, 22, fair, and Tom Blazek, 17, fairly good.

they might find people who would accept prejudice instead of proof."

Both Osborn and James E. Haggerty, another defense lawyer, hit hard at what they called the government's long delay in bringing the case to trial. Both lawyers pointed out much of the evidence offered by the government had been presented to the Hoffman Committee in 1953 and the McClellan Committee in 1958.

Investigated

The Hoffman Committee was an investigative committee of the House, headed by Rep. Clarence E. Hoffman, R-Mich. Both the Hoffman and the Senate Rackets Committee headed by Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., investigated the Teamsters Union extensively.

Those committees felt there had been no law violation, Osborn said. He said it was not until Robert Kennedy became attorney general that the charges were filed.

"Is it fair today when the lips of witnesses are sealed and memories dulled to come into here and say 'convict, convict?'" Osborn asked, his ringing oratory filling the courtroom.

Conspired

The government contends Hoffa and Commercial Carriers, Inc., Detroit automobile-hauling firm, conspired to set up and operate Test Fleet Corp. for the benefit of the Teamster president. Commercial Carriers' purpose was to insure labor peace, the prosecution says.

Test Fleet, a truck leasing firm, was chartered here in 1949 with the stock listed in the maiden name of Mrs. Hoffa and another labor official's wife.

James F. Neal, chief government prosecutor, told the jury Wednesday the proceedings were brought here because "the heart of the offense" occurred in Nashville.

Incredible

Osborn termed this an "incredible theory." He said the only Tennessee links in the government's case were the filing of the Test Fleet charter and the subsequent annual tax reports mailed here.

Hoffa was pictured by his attorneys as a dedicated union official who worked tirelessly for the benefit of his men.

Girl Travels With Donkey In Front Seat

Clifton, N.J. (UPI) — Pretty, 22-year-old Jane McMillan is just like any other girl on her way to California from Europe with a donkey in her Volkswagen.

Notice of the appeal by Lila Meyerkorth of Shubert and the Emmanuel Association, a religious group with headquarters in Colorado Springs, Colo., was filed Thursday by the clerk of the Nebraska Supreme Court.

Casually removing the right front seat from her small convertible, the blonde, blue-eyed native of the Golden State spread some straw on the car floor, helped the donkey aboard and headed from the government animal quarantine station here, where the donkey had been for several weeks.

The suit was initiated in Lancaster District Court to prevent educational officials from closing a small private school set up by the association. The education officials had threatened the action on the grounds the teacher hired to tutor the students there, Eleanor Berry, did not have minimum teaching qualifications. Mrs. Meyerkorth was one of the parents whose children attended the school.

Both the donkey — the size of an overfed police dog — and the car — a little bigger — were picked up in Europe. The car she bought in Germany. The donkey she picked up in the wilds of Greece when natives told her it would freeze to death in the winter. The District Court dismissed the action Dec. 21, 1961. Mrs. Meyerkorth and the association appealed the decision, but the Nebraska Supreme Court upheld it June 8, 1962 and then turned down a motion for rehearing on Sept. 28, 1962.

The Supreme Court ruled that the state had the right to set educational standards and did not violate any religious rights in this case by doing so.
